DRAFT ROTORUA FUTURE DEVELOPMENT STRATEGY 2023

WHAT IS A FUTURE DEVELOPMENT STRATEGY (FDS)?

Replacing the 2018 Rotorua Spatial Plan, the FDS is a long-term strategy for the development of a well-functioning urban environment (Rotorua city including Ngongotahā) that provides for the social, economic and cultural wellbeing of its people and considers the natural environment.

The FDS will:

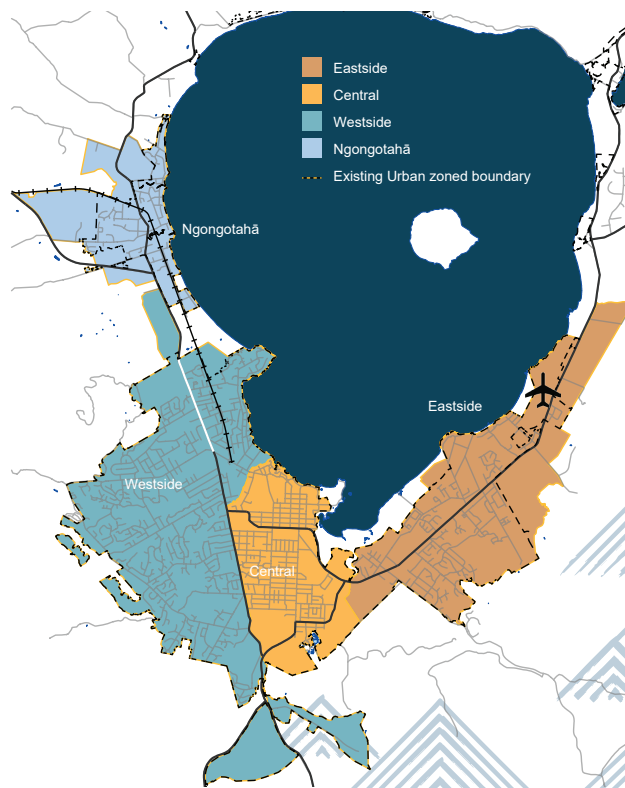

- Direct how and where housing and business growth happens over the next 30 years,
- Ensure that we have sufficient land and infrastructure to meet both housing and business demand,
- Guide future decisions and investment for Rotorua,
- Give direction to other Council strategies such as the Long-Term Plan, 30-Year Infrastructure Strategy and Open Space Network Plan.

The FDS has been informed by Council's priorities and Te Matakītenga a Te Arawa | Te Arawa 2050 Vision.

The focus of the FDS is on planning for growth and land use change in our urban area.

Draft strategy for growth – what our future looks like.

The draft Rotorua FDS promotes a compact city, with opportunities for managed growth within existing neighbourhoods, and new communities focussed around for priority development areas - Westside, Central, Ngongotahā and the Eastside.
